

Introduction of Brian Bock:

Brian is from Fremont California where he grew up being involved with the boy scouts and competitive sports. While in middle school, Brian and his older brother Joshua were not known for taking the easy way out for anything. They worked for their uncle's construction company doing mainly demolition work then in high school became Entrepreneurs starting their own handyman business to support themselves through their high school and college careers. Brian completed his Firefighter 1 academy at Chabot College, and a work experience program with Oakland Fire Department. Brian is working on continuing his formal education to complete paramedic school by next year, while volunteering at the great Sonora City Fire Department. Brian would like to thank everyone who contributed and continues to contribute help along his career path. He would like to give a special thanks to his mother, she did not help him up when he fell, but mentored him on how to help himself up and lead by example.

I will be pinning Brian's badge